

GLOBAL LOGIC

Introduction

GlobalLogic is a leader in design-led digital engineering. The company works at the intersection of design, engineering, and data to help customers imagine what's possible and build the digital technologies of their future.

GlobalLogic was founded in 2000 and for over 20 years, it has been collaborating with some of the world's most recognized brands and fast-growing disruptors to create innovative digital products, platforms, and engaging experiences. At GlobalLogic, design, complex engineering, and data are married to bring its customers' digital ambitions to life. In the process, it creates new business models, new revenue streams, and transforms its customers' businesses.
